Discerning Design

- Virgin Voyages worked with a Creative Collective comprised of some of the most sought-after interior designers, artists and architects including Roman and Williams, Tom Dixon’s Design Research Studio, Concrete Amsterdam, Softroom of London and more — many of whom are responsible for the creation of the most stylish boutique hotels and resorts across major cities in the US and Europe. None of them have ever designed for the cruise industry... before now.

- Our ships’ dynamic design mimics that of a yacht with a sleek, silvery grey hull with smoked glass, and of course, distinctive touches of red. RWD from Beaulieu England, who are leaders in super yacht design, created the iconic red Virgin funnel of the vessel.

- Scarlet is the beautiful mermaid design that adorns the bow of Scarlet Lady. The mermaid, designed by artist Toby Tinsley, serves as the ship’s powerful spirit guide and is inspired by figureheads on historic vessels. Valiant Lady’s mermaid gorgeous black mermaid captures the energy of a woman moving confidently towards her dreams. She was designed by Hillary Wilson, who has a background in classical art and medical drawing. The result - a dazzling mermaid that resembles a real black woman with authentic features and characteristics. Cabins

- The cabin is custom-created to accommodate the Seabed, the first-ever transformational cabin bed at sea, specially engineered and handcrafted by Walter Knoll in Germany. The concept of the Seabed came from the convivial nature of cruising and gives Sailors more space for social gatherings in the cabin -- and eliminates the unspoken awkwardness of inviting new friends over with no place for them to sit but on the bed. Instead, Sailors can enjoy their cabin in two distinct ways: as a place to revel or a place to relax.
- Every Sailor wishing to voyage aboard our ships can find their special hideaway with roomy XL Sea Terrace cabins, Sea Terrace cabins, Sea View cabins, Insider cabins, Social Insider cabins that sleep up to four in a chalet-style bunk and Solo Insider cabins designed and priced exclusively for the solo traveler.
- With clever cabin technology, the mood lighting automatically adjusts to enhance the time of day based on where the ship is in the world, reflecting the blue seas and the gold to purple sunsets of the Caribbean waters.
- The cabins feature PIR presence sensors that automatically detect when someone has left the cabin and go into energy saver mode, where blinds close and air conditioning adjusts to an eco-saver temperature, conserving energy to support the company’s commitment to sustainability.
- Most standard cabins have transitional Seabeds, in-room entertainment with 43”+ 4K flat-screen HDTVs, mini bars, glam areas and flexible wardrobes. All cabins were engineered to optimize bathroom space featuring rain shower heads for a spa-like wash.
- All terraces feature custom-designed hammocks, handwoven by artisans from Yellow Leaf, a social enterprise that fosters women’s empowerment and community transformation in rural Thailand.

- The Beach Club at Bimini overlooks the ocean and cascades down to the sea with an expansive lagoon-style pool as the central anchor of the club.
- In the spirit of Vitamin Sea, the brand’s ethos of well-being, there are moments of retox and detox throughout the day. Sailors can find areas of high energy and quiet spots for complete relaxation and introspection. Mornings at The Beach Club at Bimini begin with yoga and meditation as Sailors enjoy the sounds of the ocean. The energy at The Beach Club at Bimini is gradually amplified as the day progresses and turned back down as dusk settles in. Sailors reach the high point of the day by the afternoon where DJ-led pool and flotilla parties are the center of the action. The night’s energy winds down and Sailors are invited to catch the sunset from the shore.
- The Beach Club also has complimentary food that is thoughtfully sourced. Its locally inspired menus serve up island favorites such as conch and mango salad, banana leaf-wrapped queen snapper, savory ribs, Bahamian rum cake and more.
• As Sailors start to explore the club, they are pleased to discover creative social spaces with hammock groves and six bars where they can congregate in groups of friends. Those looking for a home base for the day can enjoy the many beach loungers or opt for a more private place to cuddle up, with beach-side and poolside cabanas available for rent.
